Rivalry Win

Ridgefield beat Cowlitz 12-0 on Tuesday and 8-7 on Wednesday to win the Columbia River Cup. The Raptors also won the season series in 2024 and raised the cup again in Longview.

First Flight in Longview

Loyola Marymount (LMU) outfielder Cooper Whitton joined the team in Cowlitz and started all three games. The Senior totaled three hits and one walk and stole two bases in the series. Whitton spent three seasons at Washington before joining LMU.

Scouting the Pickles

The Pickles have the best record in the WCL (33-7) through 40 games. Portland won the South Division's first half title, giving it a playoff spot. The Pickles are 12-3 in the second half and have a one game lead over Corvallis (11-4) for first place.

Oregon commit Josh Schleichardt is one RBI and one home run away from setting a new WCL record for RBI and home runs in a single season. Schleichardt has 54 RBI and 15 home runs this season.

In 2017, Taylor Wright (Kelowna Falcons) and Evan Johnson (Wenatchee AppleSox) both drove in 54 runs. During the same season Chase Illig (Bellingham Bells) hit 15 home runs to set the record.

New in the Nest

The Raptors added infielder Adam Alharbi (Modesto Junior College) for the series against Portland. The sophomore played 38 games in the Spring.

Raptors Look Ahead

Friday's game against Portland will start at 6:35 p.m. First pitch on Saturday will also take place at 6:35 p.m., and Sunday's game will start at 1:05 p.m.

Ridgefield will have another non-league series next Tuesday and Wednesday. The Northwest Star Nighthawks will play the Raptors again after they lost both games against Ridgefield on July 18 and 19.
